   - ALOC 0620
   - ALOC 0630
   - ALOC 0810
   - ALOC 0820
   - ALOC 0830
   - ALOC 0890

Action: All items approved without opposition.

Discussion:

Following the consideration of the above proposals, the council discussed the user-friendliness of the Curriculum Review Council proposal forms. Dr. Mike Cundall proposed the development of online forms where the information could be keyed in and submitted online or the use of fillable pdf forms. Barbara Prescott, coordinator for the CRC, stated this has been a project on the Registrar's Office to-do-list but limited personnel and resources have prevented accomplishing this goal. The majority of the council confirmed this as a desirable goal. Dr. Lisa Abney indicated she would talk with Phil Gillis, Information Systems, concerning the development of the online forms.

Dr. Bill Dickens requested clarification on a statement Dr. Abney had made earlier in the meeting. He asked if he understood her to say that there are curriculums on campus that require more than 120 hours for the degree but that only 120 could be counted toward graduation. Dr. Abney explained what she had meant by her statement was that there will be students who, due to major changes, etc., would graduate with more than 120 hours but that only the 120 hours required for the degree would be counted toward the degree. Dr. Dickens stated that his concern is with the students that may want to go to medical school—want to take all the courses required for admission to the Health Sciences Center, and may have 136–140 earned hours. He asked if we could list this in a degree program with 138 hours. Dr. Abney responded this could not be done. Dr. Dickens asked how we could account for the additional hours they would have to take to be eligible. Following a brief discussion, in which several council members participated; Dr. Abney stated students who choose to complete the pre-med curriculum would take any extra hours required in addition to the hours required for their degree. Dr. Abney went on to tell the council she would discuss this with Dr. O’Hara (ULS, Provost and VP for Academic Affairs) since medical school is a good example of a degree program that would require higher hours but is not accredited. Dr. Lynn Woods offered as an example, the Family and Consumers Sciences programs in which they allot 18 hours for a minor, knowing that most minors require 21 hours and their students will have to take 21 hours to accomplish a required minor. Dr. Kimberly McAllister stated they would have to add the hours to the programs. Dr. Woods responded that they could not because they do not have the space for it. Dr. McAllister added that if the students could graduate without a minor most would choose to take the extra class to complete the minor. Dr. Cundall asserted they could not state that a minor is required and give students a 120 hour program yet require them to do 123 hours. He went on to ask why the state decided on 120 hour curriculums. Dr. Abney responded that nationwide there is a push to move degree programs downward and 120 hours was determined as the magic number. She went on to tell the council when this was first discussed she told Brad O’Hara 120 hours does not work for all degree programs. She stated she gave him an example in which a degree program may have a 5 hour course which will result in a 121 hour degree program and explained to him that an hour could not just be hacked off of something in the curriculum since there were very few 1 hour required courses. Dr. Cundall stated he was just curious as to why the decision was made for 15 hours a semester over 4 years. He went on to state that it was possible to get it done in that length of time. Dr. Abney asserted that it was but was not probable in our particular set of students. She added that was why we have a six year cohort rate. She went on to state that she would also discuss the issue of minors and majors with Dr. O’Hara as this will be an issue in a lot of majors that require a minor and yet if required it will push the total hours. Dr. Woods pointed out that they allow the student to choose the minor but that there are only about two 18 hour minors available. She went on to state if a student chooses to minor in a minor requiring more than 18 hours it is their choice but the department only allows, within the confines of the degree programs, for 18 hours. Dr. Abney stated that since there are two minors that are 18 hours the program requirements are safe and if a student chooses to pursue a minor that has more hours that is the student’s choice. Dr. Cundall commented that this wasn’t giving them real choices. Dr. Abney responded they had two choices.

Dr. Bill Dickens moved to adjourn the meeting.
