DEPARTMENT OF ENGLISH, FOREIGN LANGUAGES, AND CULTURAL STUDIES

Mission Statement Final Draft

As scholars, students, and teachers, we strive to be engaged, compassionate, curious learners and to engender the same passion in every student we teach. The critical study of texts, languages, and textual production is vital for our development as critical thinkers, effective communicators, and thoughtful community members. As a department, we offer these interdisciplinary experiences in diverse but complementary areas of study.

As scholars of literature, we cultivate comprehension and analysis of texts through evidence-based communication to acknowledge the integral operation of discourse, its forms, and its circulation inherent in all cultures.

As scholars of film and media, we prepare students to interpret and create a range of audiovisual texts through an understanding of the moving image as a form of creative expression, a global commodity, and a culturally situated work.

As professional writers and scholars of rhetoric, composition, and linguistics, we explore the theory and practice of using language in order to prepare composers to clearly and effectively articulate and support arguments for diverse purposes, contexts, and audiences and to instruct others to do the same.

As creative writers, we build communities where we nurture students as they discover and hone their expressive voices and personal aesthetics through experimentation in style, genre, and form.

As language and TESOL scholars, we bridge cultures through the study of world languages and cultures to expand our horizons, foster understanding of each other, better understand our own languages and cultures, and prepare culturally competent instructors to teach languages effectively.

As folklorists and scholars of cultural studies, we prepare students to document, analyze, and sustain cultural practices and products and provide students with the opportunity to engage with the folk and their lore through ethnographic study, allowing us to examine the dynamics of identity formation, cultural production, exchange, and consumption, and the negotiations these acts entail.

As scholars at Northwestern State University, each faculty and staff member of the Department of English, Foreign Languages, and Cultural Studies is committed to helping our students and each other become effective composers of texts, critical consumers of texts, and responsible members of physical and digital spaces who exchange knowledge locally, nationally, and globally.
