

Step-by-Step Guide to Apply for NSU - University of Angers Exchange Program

STEP 1: Find the classes that work for you. Unless you are fluent in French, check the list of English-taught courses at University of Angers. Choose classes that directly relate to your program of study.

STEP 2: Visit the IRSC. Schedule a visit for a general information session with the International Student Resource Center.

STEP 3: Meet with your academic advisor. Schedule a visit with your academic advisor and identify the best courses to choose for your Study Abroad semester. Ask how your participation may impact your expected graduation date.

STEP 4: Complete your application. It should include:

- Study Abroad Application form, with the signature of your advisor.
- Statement of Purpose.
- Letter of recommendation from your advisor or a professor in your department.
- Learning Agreement Form signed by your advisor.
- Copy of your transcript.

Bring or send all documentation to the International Student Resource Center, Russell 227.

If accepted, the International Student Resource Center will notify you, and will notify University of Angers the names of the students selected to participate in the exchange.

ONCE YOU RECEIVE YOUR LETTER OF ACCEPTANCE from the ISRC:

STEP 1: If you do not have one, apply for a passport as soon as possible. If yours is about to expire, apply for a new one. Generally, the passport has to be valid for at least six months after the day of your departure.

STEP 2: The International Student Resource center will give you specific instructions on how to complete the application process with University of Angers. At this point you will secure campus housing at University of Angers. You are not to start the application process until you receive the notification of your acceptance, and the ISRC instructs you on when and how to proceed.

STEP 3: The ISRC will provide you with instructions on how to start the Visa application process.

STEP 4: Register for the designated NSU Study Abroad class. The ISRC will notify you the CRN number to add the class.

STEP 5: If you will apply for Financial Aid, make sure you complete all the required paperwork to ensure that your award is disbursed on time.

STEP 6: Make sure your health insurance will cover you while in France, or purchase health insurance for travelers.

STEP 7: Review important general student travel and safety information, as well as information specific to University of Angers, the city, and the country.

IMPORTANT: Your application to participate in this exchange program will be valid as long as the ISRC submits all requested documentation to the host institution. University of Angers will return all applications not submitted by or with the authorization of the ISRC.
